Danielle Noriega moderated the Learning Collaborative October monthly call. Discussion summaries of agenda items are listed below:

RFA Review Update

Track A grantees have been notified of award via email. Next steps will include completion of letter of commitments and required forms.

Track B applications are in final review. If clarification or follow-up was needed, NORC reached out to applicants individually via email. To ensure that the application process was thorough, each application was reviewed by the NORC team and partners. Grantees will be notified via email in the next few weeks regarding their applications.

If applicants have questions about their applications, please contact SBIRTeam@norc.org.

Development of Interactive Patient Simulation Training (Kognito)

NORC and Kognito will be conducting a beta-testing of the interactive patient simulation training at the CSWE meeting in which participants will have a chance to playtest the training and offer feedback. A similar opportunity will be available at the AACN conference in November.

SBIRT Education Website Platform – sbirteducation.com

NORC launched an SBIRT platform located at sbirteducation.com. This site includes links to the other NORC affiliated SBIRT initiatives including the BIG Initiative, hospital and this adolescent project. Learning Collaborative members are encouraged to visit these sites to view SBIRT resources and events.

There have also been some changes to the Adolescent SBIRT website including a reorganization of the resources and a “Meet Us” page of the NORC project team. NORC and Kognito conducted a presentation in September for the recent SAMHSA SBIRT grantees which included an overview of the websites and resources available. This recording is available to Learning Collaborative members upon request.

SBIRT Related Webinar Topics

NORC will be launching a webinar series in 2016 on SBIRT related topics. To ensure that the topics for these webinars will be useful to Learning Collaborative members, NORC has created a three question survey to gauge interest and select topics. The survey is located at the link below:

Needs Assessment

There is still time to complete the needs assessment survey to help understand the landscape of schools of nursing and social work. This survey is open to faculty, students and practitioners. It is not exclusive to Learning Collaborative members and therefore members are encouraged to not only complete it but to disseminate it as well. The needs assessment is located below:

Upcoming Conferences (More details on Page 3)

The NORC team will attend the CSWE meeting and AACN conference (details below). As previously mentioned, NORC and Kognito will conduct beta-testing and sessions at both meetings. If Learning Collaborative members plan to attend any of these meetings, they are encouraged to attend the scheduled opportunities as well as contact SBIRTeam@norc.org to set-up an informal time to meet team members in person.
